

You're Not Alone

Words & Music by John Ryan
Copyright ©2003 John Ryan (ASCAP)
Published by Ryanwood Music (ASCAP)
Ryan Music Inc. (www.ryanmusic.com)

These are times that make us wonder
If we've seen our better days
Far away there's distant thunder
It strikes closer to home than I can say

One last kiss before they parted
As they held each other tight
Duty called, and off he started
As he turned to leave, she softly cried

She said: "I only hope this will soon be over
And that you know that you're not alone
I've prayed the angels will hold you in their arms
And bring you safely home..."

There are those who speak of freedom
There are those who cry for peace
Then there's those sent to defend us
They bear a burden that most will never see

Here at home, her heart is yearning
As she clings to hopes and dreams
Of the day he'll be returning
And she prays that it's sooner that it seems

She says: "I only hope this will soon be over
And that you know that you're not alone
I've prayed the angels will hold you in their arms
And bring you safely home..."

Bridge:

Far away he holds her picture
In his mind he drifts away
He puts his thoughts into a letter
And he sends it on its way...

He say's: "I also hope this will soon be over
And I know that I'm not alone
For there's an angel that watches over me...
She waits for me at home."